DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER

MOST PERFECT MADE.
From the Professor of Chemistry, California College of Pharmacy.

SAN FRANCISCO, JANUARY 24, 1896.

I have made a careful analysis of a sample of Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder purchased by me in open market. The results of my analysis show that the Cream of Tartar used in its manufacture is pure, and that it does not contain any foreign substances, such as Alum, Ammonia, Lime or other impurities. I consider it to be pure and wholesome, and in every way a superior article.

IMPORTANT ARREST.

A Conspirator in the Cronin Case.

SPIRITUAL FRAUDS EXPOSED.

The Count of Paris Proud of His Son.

More Railroads To Be Constructed in Mexico by a Syndicate.

An Important Arrest.

By Associated Press.]
CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—The police deny that the man whose arrest caused such a stir last night is Cooney, the "Fox." They decline to say who he is, but admit that he is one of the Cronin conspirators. It is surmised he is Simonds, the man who bought the trunk in which Cronin's body was carried from the cottage.

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—It is now said the man is even a more important personage, so far as the State is concerned, than Cooney, and that it promises to result in a complete unraveling of the Cronin mystery.

The man arrested is supposed to be the friend of Dan Coughlin, who came from Hancock, Mich., and is the man who is believed to have driven the white horse with Dr. Cronin to his death in the Carlson cottage. The arrest was made at Little Rock, Arkansas.

The Chief of Police says the man arrested in connection with the Cronin murder is said to be Kelly, a Chicago book-cannasser, otherwise known as J. B. Simonds and "Smith." He has consented to return without a requisition, and it is understood, will make a full confession.

St. Louis, Feb. 18.—The Cronin suspect under arrest here is J. B. Kelley, and he denies that he is in any way connected with the Cronin case.

Mexican Railroads.

By Associated Press.]
CITY OF MEXICO, Feb. 18.—An American syndicate offers to furnish the money for the construction of a railroad from Guadalajara west to Chancela, on the Pacific coast, and east from Guadalajara to Agua Calientes, on the Mexican Central. The probability is, therefore, that the concession will be withdrawn from the London market.

Work on the Tehuantepec Railroad is progressing rapidly. The formal inauguration of the branch of the Mexican Central to Tampa is fixed for April 2d.

The Inter-oceanic Railroad is working hard on its line in the direction of Jalapa.

Frauds Unmasked.

By Associated Press.]
CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—Three reporters and a detective last night attended a dark cabinet seance and managed to unmask Mrs. Carrie M. Sawyer, her husband, Frank Burke, and Kattie Rainger, who played the disembodied female spirit, while Mrs. Sawyer played male parts, with the aid of wigs, beards, etc. Burke was manager and magnetist. They were arrested and locked up. Mrs. Sawyer was formerly a well-known medium in San Francisco. She was doing a big business here.

Death of a Noted Hungarian.

By Cable and Associated Press.]
PESTH, Feb. 18.—Count Julius Andrássy, the well-known Hungarian statesman, who has been ill for some time at Volosca, died to-day. He was 67 years of age.

Congressional Affairs.

By Associated Press.]
WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The Senate Committee on Commerce has agreed to report favorably the bill appropriating $6,200,000 for the construction of a deep water harbor at Galveston.

At a meeting of the Senate Finance Committee to-day the various silver and currency bills that have been referred to it were under consideration. The discussion covered the whole range of the financial situation, but the silver question was the principal topic. All the Republican members of the committee were present and Harris and Vance of the minority. The discussion is said to have demonstrated that there was little if any variance in their views upon the manner in which the silver question should be treated. There was a practical agreement that a bill should be passed authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to increase the purchase of silver, store it as bullion and issue certificates upon it. It is expected that the details of a bill covering these propositions will be drafted at the next meeting of the committee.

SENATE.
Among the bills from committees placed on the calendar was the following: An appropriation of $6,200,000 for the construction of a deep water harbor at Galveston, Texas, not more than $1,000,000 to be expended each year.

The House Committee on Postoffice and Post-roads continued the consideration of the subject of a limited postal telegraph. Postmaster-General Wanamaker and A. B. Chandler, President of the Postal Telegraph, were present, and gave their views on the subject. Wanamaker thought it should be under the control of the Civil Service Commission, and that the wires should not be used politically.

The Senate bill providing for the appointment of an Assistant Secretary of War, which was laid before the House, is substantially the same as the House bill already favorably reported from the Military Committee. The Speaker held it was, under the rules, entitled to immediate consideration, so the House went into Committee of the Whole thereon. The discussion continued until half-past one, when the committee arose without action and the House resumed the consideration of the bill to provide a temporary government for Oklahoma.

Morrow of California, from the Appropriation Committee, reported the pension appropriation bill, which was referred to the Committee of the Whole.

The Speaker laid before the House a message from the President, transmitting without comment a communication from the Interior Department, proposing an amendment of the act providing for allotments of land in severalty to Indians.

The doors were reopened at 3:30. The Educational bill came up as unfinished business, and Blair proceeded with his address.

The Grazing Proclamation.

By Associated Press.]
WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The President has issued his proclamation, which, after declaring the illegality of the grazing leases by the Cherokees upon the Cherokee strip, gives notice as follows:

First, that no cattle or live-stock shall hereafter be brought upon said lands for herding or grazing thereon.

Second, that all cattle and other live-stock now on said outlet must be removed therefrom not later than October, 1896, and so much sooner as said lands or any of them may be, or may become, lawfully open to settlement by citizens of the United States, and all persons connected with said cattle companies or associations must, not later than the time above indicated, depart from said lands.

Light Damages.

By Cable and Associated Press.]
DUBLIN, Feb. 18.—Henry Campbell, a Member of Parliament, and private Secretary to Parnell, was charged in a speech with providing the knives with which Cavendish and Burke were murdered. The speech was published in the Belfast News-Letter. Campbell brought an action for libel against that paper, and to-day was awarded £200.

Concerned for His Boy.

By Cable and Associated Press.]
PARIS, Feb. 18.—Boucher, an Orleanist member of the Chamber of Deputies, has received a Havana cable dispatch from the Count of Paris, the father of the Duke of Orleans, in which he says: "I am proud of my son and pleased with the attitude he has taken, but I am deeply concerned on account of his sentence."

LONDON, Feb. 18.—Mathews, Home Secretary, replying to a deputation of miners, told them he could hold out no hope that the Government would support the eight-hour bill.

The passenger steamer Coral Queen, from Rotterdam, has been sunk off the Riker Tees in a collision with the Rotterdam steamer Brynio, and it is reported that sixteen persons on the Coral Queen were drowned.

The Probate, Divorce and Admiralty Division of the High Court of Justice refused to grant the application of Captain O'Shea for attachments against the Star and the London editors of the New York Herald for publishing certain comments relative to the action for divorce brought by O'Shea against his wife, wherein Parnell was named as co-respondent.

In the case of the Freeman's Journal of Dublin, against which a similar application was made, the Court imposed a fine of £100 and costs.

A Narrow Escape.

SOUTH NORWALK, Conn., Feb. 17.—At about 2 o'clock this morning the automatic switch dropped a freight train and saved it from a plunge through the open draw into the waters of Norwalk Harbor. The train was bound east, and the engineer claims that the distance signal about 1,000 feet from the bridge was all right when he passed it. When half the distance to the bridge was traversed, another signal told him that the draw was open. After reversing his engine the engineer and fireman jumped, and the brakeman followed their example. The next instant the train was thrown upon a side-track by the automatic switch, and at a speed of about twenty miles an hour dashed into a sandbank. The engine was partly overturned, and three cars were smashed to fragments. No one was hurt. Travel is not much delayed, as the west-bound track is unobstructed.

Good for Nevada Indians.

By Associated Press.]
WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—The Commissioner of Indian Affairs makes a number of increases in his estimates of the amounts needed during the next fiscal year for the education of Indian children. For the Indian school at Carson, Nev., the amount is increased from $35,000 to $66,500. The pay of farmers to teach the Indians is increased from $50,000 to $75,000.

Will Close Their Factories.

By Associated Press.]
WOBURN, Mass., Feb. 18.—The members of the Manufacturing Association have decided to close every leather factory represented in the Association to-morrow, and keep them closed until the men return to work at the factory of Beggs & Cobb. This means the enforced idleness of 1,500 men.

Snow at Nevada City, Cal.

Special to the GAZETTE.]

NEVADA CITY, Feb. 18.—Eight inches of snow have fallen at this city in the last five hours, and, although yesterday's fall has settled several inches, the snow is now over two feet deep on a level.

Shovelers this morning demanded seventy-five cents an hour for clearing roofs, and they figure on getting a dollar an hour before night.

The barometer is the lowest this winter, and the thermometer was 31° last night and 33° this morning.

The Narrow-gauge Company's snow-plow, "The Cyclops," had a hard fight this morning getting up the grade to Town Talk, and then came back to the station, and, taking one coach, with passengers, baggage and mail, started for Grass Valley.

The deepest snow will be encountered below Grass Valley. The stages for North Bloomfield and Camptonville left here this morning loaded light and accompanied by swamper to clear the roads if possible of the snow and fallen trees. The telegraph wires are being frequently grounded and broken and need constant attention. There is very little water in the streams, owing to the choking by snow.

Yosemite Neighbors.

By Associated Press.]
SACRAMENTO, Feb. 17.—Governor Waterman has sent to Senators Stanford and Hearst and the California Representatives in Congress a long dispatch regarding the charges against the management of the Yosemite Valley by the State of California. The Governor says the movement to have the valley revert to the care of the Government is in the interest of disappointed candidates for positions in the valley, and that the charges of mismanagement are entirely false.

The Governor mentions the names of Miss Kate Field, J. M. Hutchings and Mr. Johnson of The Century as among the instigators of the scheme, and claims that personal interests account for their position in the matter. The Governor states that he will soon forward dates and other data presenting a groundwork upon which to combat the movement.

Infernal Ingenuity.

Could scarcely deem this associating tortures than those of which you are the victims in the face of a rheumatic or neuralgic sufferer. The agonies are the consequence of not checking a rheumatic or neuralgic attack at the outset. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has been found by skillful medical practitioners to possess not only remedial but defensive efficacy, where those diseases exist, or a tendency there is exhibited. Surely this puissant but safe botanic medicine, bearing, too, such high specific sanction, is better than the pettier often employed, but most unsafe, not only in continuance, but in isolated doses. The blood is depurated thoroughly from the rheumatic virus, and the nerves, slightly impaired upon, saved from ultimate and direful throes by this benign, saving medicine, which likewise exhibits marked efficacy for malaria, kidney complaints, dyspepsia, constipation and liver complaint.

CATARH.

Catarrhal Deafness—Hay Fever A New Home Treatment.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result of this discovery is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever are permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made at home by the patient once in two weeks.

N.B.—This treatment is not a snuff or an ointment; both have been discarded by reputable physicians as injurious. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent on receipt of three cents in stamps to pay postage. A. H. Dixon & Son, 337 and 339 West King Street, Toronto, Canada.—Christian Advocate.

Sufferers from Catarrhal troubles should carefully read the above.

Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklin's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. DEATH OF GEORGE BECKER.

Grim Death Claims His Own Once More.

John George Becker, one of Reno's most esteemed citizens, departed this life on Sunday evening, February 16th, about 8 o'clock. For one so favorably known a short sketch of his life will be read with interest by his many friends:

George Becker was born December 16, 1841, at Klinging, Rhein Pfalz, Germany, and came to the United States in 1857. He came to Washoe City in 1860, engaged in business there until the Central Pacific Railroad was built, then went to Wadswoth in 1869 and remained there until 1870, when he moved to Reno and went into business with the well-known Charles Knust, whom he shortly afterward bought out, and by his industry and well-known integrity, soon built up a fine business and comfortable home for his family.

Deceased was married at Franktown, Washoe county, on December 18, 1866, to Miss Anna Schaeffer, the result of such marriage consisting of as good a family of children as Washoe county can boast, namely: Four girls—Annie, aged 22 years; Louise, aged 20; Katie, aged 18 and Adie, aged 5 years, and two boys, George, aged 16 years, and Harry, aged 13. Mr. Becker also has two brothers, the well-known J. J. Becker of Reno, and Fritz Becker of California; and also two sisters, Mrs. Sauer of Franktown, and Mrs. Tommichel of Reno, who in conjunction with his own family, mourn the loss of a kind husband, affectionate father and loving brother.

George Becker was a member of Nevada Lodge, No. 4, A. O. U. W., and Nevada Lodge, No. 3020, Knights of Honor, in good standing, and will be buried under the auspices of those Orders on Wednesday afternoon, February 19th.

A Pertinent Inquiry.

While the following may not apply to Nevada people, some California papers can put the question with considerable emphasis. N. W. Ayer & Son want to know: "When you want a lawyer do you ask all the attorneys you know to make a bid and then employ the cheapest? Do you not rather look for the attorney whose skill, knowledge of law and personal character insure thorough and honest effort in your interest? Level-headed business men seek the best legal talent—in their judgment the best is the cheapest. "Why doesn't the same principle apply to newspaper advertising? The difference between using the papers that will pay you and those that won't amounts to more in hard cash than any possible saving by competitive bids."

The Delayed Trains.

The recent snowfall and high winds on the mountains have caused a serious disarrangement of the overland trains. Yesterday's east-bound express, due here at 10:05 a. m., did not arrive until 10 p. m., and both of the west-bound trains which passed here yesterday, were on this side of the Summit to-day at noon. Quite a number of ranchers in the vicinity of Reno started the plow going as soon as the last deep snow melted off the ground. They are now considering the advisability of waiting another month.

Although the Yellowstone Park is full of springs and streams, they contain no fish. This is explained by the abundance of lava, which obliterated life when it was forced out, and has since kept the fishes out by the fact that the lava has produced a waterfall in every stream.

TRUCKEE ITEMS.

Murder Trial—Capsule Hamburg—More Ice.

The Truckee Republican says: Next Tuesday in the Superior Court the trial of William Travers on the charge of murdering James Daley at Lake City two or three months ago will begin. District Attorney Nilon will prosecute and Thomas Ford will defend.

There is a man in Sacramento, and he has been in Red Bluff and other towns in the northern part of the State, who sells four capsules for fifty cents, and he says a capsule put into a lamp saves kerosene. The capsule contains powdered alum, and has no effect on saving oil. The trick is an old one, but people bite as if it were new. The man will probably come to Truckee with his capsules.

The ice weather has been very good this week, and, in spite of the many set-backs, a very good crop of ice will be harvested. Thursday the Tahoe Ice Company's house ice business has also increased their store considerably. All the good ice has been cut at Boca and Prosser Creek, but a second crop has been forming rapidly, and a little more cold weather will make it thick enough to cut. The Mountain Ice Company has a good second crop, and will commence cutting it to-morrow. It is not unlikely that the second crop will amount to 50,000 tons.

Still After the Governor.

The stockholders of the Kentucky Mining Company are still pressing their claims against Governor Stevenson. The Court has decided that he must make an accounting. Testimony is now being made to decide just what amount he will be compelled to pay over. The Governor has been allowed until next Friday to produce in the San Francisco court his accounts with the Kentucky Mining Company, showing the amount of ore milled, bullion yield per ton and assays. If he fails to produce the accounts he will be held for contempt.

The Weather.

The indications are that this storm may continue until Wednesday afternoon or longer. The barometer is today the lowest it has been since March 15, 1889. Since the barometer readings were taken in November, 1888, there have been but three days upon which the barometer fell lower than to-day, viz.: February 15, and March 13 and 15, 1889. Upon each of these dates there was rain or snow. The highest barometer reading for the period was 25.976 inches, one week ago, Feb. 11th.

Washed Away.

A heavy washout is reported on L. S. Adams' ranch at Salt Marsh, between here and Surprise Valley. The reservoir from which Mr. Adams expected so much, and which he thought he had located on the highest part of his range, has been entirely swept away.

A QUAKER'S DOZEN.

Richard Stege, the well known proprietor of the Quaker Dairy, No. 30 Ellis St., San Francisco, last week sent the following letter to the Edwin W. Joy Co. "My family have been taking Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla now for months with splendid results. Duraxperence has been that after taking it regularly for a short time and getting the system started right, an occasional dose thereafter keeps the system in perfect condition. A peculiarity of your vegetable compound is, that it does not cause a headache, but seems to accomplish the same results continually. As a liver and bowel regulator and corrective it is perfection. We would not be without it. In fact I have just bought a dozen bottles to get the reduced price." A. M. Rowe of 224 Jones street, S. F., also writes that it has been his habit for years to awake in the mornings with a headache and an exhausted feeling; but since the first bottle he has had no return.

[Reno Encampment, I. O. O. F. Public Installation.—The officers and members of Truckee Lodge No. 14, Reno Lodge No. 19 and Nevada Rebekah Degree Lodge No. 7, I. O. O. F., are cordially invited to attend a public installation of Reno Encampment No. 5, on Monday evening, February 24, 1890. By order JOHN HOAR, Chief Patriarch.

SIMPLY MARVELOUS!

SCARCELY eight months ago a medical discovery was placed upon the market bearing the title "THE GREAT SIERRA KIDNEY and LIVER CURE," and whose virtue was claimed to be the cure of kidney and liver complaints. ITS INTRODUCTION WAS THE SIGNAL FOR ONE OF THE GREATEST SUCCESSSES ever achieved by a patent medicine on the Pacific Coast, as the afflicted quickly ascertained that it was far more efficacious and beneficial than had been claimed, as THE MOST WONDERFUL CURES WERE ACCOMPLISHED IN SUCH A BRIEF TIME as to seem MIRACULOUS.

The testimony of hundreds who have been lifted from sickness and misery to health and happiness bears no uncertain sound, and they join in glowing testimonials of universal praise, hoping thereby to induce other unfortunates to drink of the font which restores that which is priceless, health. ONE TRIAL WILL CONVINCE THE MOST DISPARING THAT AT LAST A DISCOVERY HAS BEEN MADE which will restore a disorganized system and bring glowing health out of pale and sallow decline. One dollar per bottle. Six bottles for five dollars.

Publication of Summons.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE State of Nevada, in and for the county of Washoe, the State of Nevada sends to D. S. Hickman, greeting: You are hereby required to appear in an action commenced against you as defendant by Nona S. Hickman as plaintiff, in the District Court of the State of Nevada, in and for the county of Washoe, and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this summons (excluding the day of service), if served in said county, or twenty days if served out of said county, but within said district, and in all other cases forty days, unless by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. The said action is brought to recover against you a judgment and decree of divorce on the complaint of the plaintiff herein, in which complaint she alleges that you and her were united in marriage at Reno, in the county of Washoe, State of Nevada, January 27, 1888, that you and plaintiff have not lived or cohabited as husband and wife since about August 30, 1888, that you have not at any time since said marriage contributed to her support, that you went away from Reno, aforesaid, about the first of November, 1888, that you abandoned plaintiff about August 30th, aforesaid, and have not since said August 30th recognized her as your wife, that she charges against you abandonment and failure to support her and failure to provide for her the common necessities of life for more than one year preceding her complaint made and filed, to wit: from August 30th, 1888, to the present time, and that you have not provided for her is not a result of poverty that could not have been avoided by you by ordinary industry. She claims against you the custody of your minor child, on the ground that you are incompetent to care for him or to have dominion over him, all of which will more fully appear from the complaint which is on file in the office of the Clerk of said Court at Reno, in said county, and to which you are especially referred.

WILLIAM WEBSTER,
Attorney for Plaintiff.

RATS IN TREE TOPS.

Another Instance of Man Trying to Improve on Nature.
A curious and interesting instance of animals changing their habits owing to the altered circumstances of their surroundings, or, as Darwin called it, their "adaptability to environment," came under the writer's notice a short time ago on the Island of Jamaica. While traveling through the northern part of that island we passed grove after grove of cocoa-nut palms. All the trees five years old and upwards, that is, the fruit-bearing trees, were tinged all around their trunks. For five feet above the ground each tree was incased in a plate of tin nailed firmly.

The explanation is a strange one. For many years the sugar-planters in Jamaica were cursed with the ravages of rats. These rodents would invade the fields just when the cane was getting ripe for cutting. Each rat would select some choice cane and begin to nibble at its base, gradually gnawing deeper and deeper until it toppled over. The crash of the falling cane frightened the rat, who, scampering off, soon began at another one. These pests did enormous damage and no small item in the sugar-planters' yearly bill was the one for the rat-catcher.

The years ago Bancroft Espect, a well-known planter on the island, imported from India six couples of mongoose or ichneumon, the deadly enemy of snakes and rats. The mongoose increased and multiplied in an incredible manner and themselves became a pest, which every means failed to destroy. The rats at first fell an easy prey to their destroyers and were soon driven out of the fields and the stone-walled fences that had formed their homes. They swarmed into the houses and towns, but were still followed by the ichneumon. The full-grown rat by its destructiveness did escape for a time, but the mongoose easily scented out the nest of little ones and destroyed them, or, ferret-like, traced the rat to its last lair and killed it there. The rat, driven from every refuge, took then to the palm trees, and among the cluster of fronds that crown each tree made its home and reared its family in safety.

At first it was hardly credited that the rat had turned into an arboreal rodent, but it soon became a painful fact, for the fruit-bearing spike pushed its way out, the rats would nibble it off and render the tree barren. The writer has himself seen rats, disturbed by a negro who had climbed a tree for the cocoanuts, jump to the ground fully fifty feet. But nature has not endowed them with the nine lives of a cat also, for the fall certainly knocked all the wind out of them, and they fell an easy prey to the nearest dog or man. Owing to this new development in the habits of the Jamaica rat, the planter has been obliged to tin-line his cocoa-nut trees.

In the meantime the mongoose has turned his attention to the farm-yard, and whereas a few years ago fowls were the cheapest and commonest food, now they can be enjoyed only by the well-to-do. It is another instance of man trying to improve on nature. Not long ago there was good guinea-bird, quail and partridge shooting to be had on the island, but as these birds build on the ground, not one is to be found now, for if there is anything a mongoose likes it is to suck an egg, and he does it so artistically, making the smallest of holes, that the mother-bird still sits on, in vain hopes of hatching her brood.—N. Y. Tribune.

ADULTERATED CANDY.

The Alarming Use of Terra Alba in Its Manufacture.
The Board of Trade Journal of Portland, Me., is authority for the statement that about 6,000 tons of terra alba were recently imported through the port of New York alone. The only use for terra alba in any quantity is in the adulteration of candies, and when these two facts are put together they become very significant. The substance is mineral, utterly insoluble in the saliva or the gastric juice, and the result of eating candies adulterated can not be otherwise than excessively injurious. The devilishness of the use of such stuff in candies is all the greater for the fact that most of the candies that are adulterated with it are used by children of tender years. The extent to which it exists in certain candies may be surmised by an incident which occurred within the experience of the editor of the National Druggist. A wholesale grocery house of St. Louis made a claim against the South Shore line for damages done a certain lot of lozenges manufactured by a Boston house and shipped in barrels over that line. The general agent of the line procured some of these "lozenges" and brought them to the writer for examination. The result of our investigation showed them to consist entirely of terra alba bound together with a little gelatine or gum (we have forgotten which). Further investigation developed that they were simply blocks of forms to be used in preparing cheap lozenges, the method of use being simply to immerse them for a few moments in sirups flavored with peppermint, winter-green, etc. The agent, armed with these facts, refused to pay any damages, and the concern, rather than risk the exposure incident upon a lawsuit, dropped the claim.—National Druggist.

MARVELS OF HYPNOTISM.

Experiments Which are Baffling to the Ordinary Comprehension.
The end I have ever held before my eyes, and which I hope I have never lost from view, is this: To study the hypnotic phenomena according to a strictly scientific method and for this purpose to employ processes purely physical and which can always be compared with one another, so that the results obtained by me may be rigorously tested by all observers who shall use the same processes under the same conditions. Take one example from among a thousand. I present to a woman patient in the hypnotic state a blank leaf of paper and say to her: "Here is my portrait; what do you think of it? Is it a good likeness?" After a moment's hesitation she answers: "Yes, indeed, your photograph; will you give it to me?" To impress deeply in the mind of the subject this imaginary portrait I point with my finger toward one of the four sides of the square leaf of paper, and tell her that my profile looks in that direction; I describe my clothing. The image being now fixed in her mind I take that leaf of paper and mix it with a score of other leaves precisely like it. I then hand the whole pack to the patient, bidding her go over them and let me know whether she finds among these any thing she has seen before. She begins to look at the leaves one after another, and as soon as her eyes fall upon the one first shown to her (I had made upon it a mark that she could not discern) forthwith she exclaims: "Look, your portrait!" What is more curious still, if I turn the leaf upside down, as soon as her eyes rest upon it she turns it over, saying that my photograph is on the obverse. I then convey to her the order that she shall continue to see the portrait on the blank paper even after the hypnosis has passed. Then I awaken her and again hand to her the pack of papers, requesting her to look over them. She handles them just as before when she was hypnotized. Just at the same time exclamation: "Look, your portrait!" If now I tell her that she may retire, she returns to her dormitory, and her first care will be to show to her companions the photograph I have given her. Of course, her companions, not having received the suggestion, will see only a blank leaf of paper without any trace whatever of a portrait, and will laugh at our subject and treat her as a visionary. Furthermore, this suggestion, this hallucination, will, if I wish, continue several days; all I have to do is to express the wish to the patient before awakening her.

DOLLIES THAT TALK.

Possibilities of the Phonograph When Used to Amuse the Children.
The Edison works at Orange are running these days on a new delight for little folks. They are at work on a lot of 50,000 dolls. Marvelous dolls are these. Not only do these dolls have sure-enough hair and eyebrows, not only do they roll and cymbrows as if looking for mother, not only can their eyes be closed when they are tucked into dainty little cribs, with snowy linens and bright silks to cover them, not only can they walk and clap their hands—they can talk and sing. It is sure-enough talk, too, and not the exasperating combination of sounds produced by reeds in the dolls hitherto called talking babies.
Great larks the little folks are going to have with these dolls, for mere talk is but one of their accomplishments. They can sing as well and they can talk and sing in many foreign languages. My little lady will go abroad, taking along her doll that is able to tell how Jack Spratt could eat no fat and his wife could eat no lean, and such other nursery rhymes as please little folks. After a few months in Paris my little lady has learned to talk French from a pretty French nurse, while her doll may very likely say something like this:
Dors, enfant cher!
Dors bien.
Ton petit ventre
Est vide de pain.
Mais a sa place
Pour tout besoin
Tu as un phonographe.
Du grand Edison.
Or may be Berlin is the place of residence, and the make-believe mamma's tongue has got some of the kinks and twists in it which young Yankee tongues acquire in the fatherland, while the doll, when bed-time comes, buries its head in a downy little pillow, closes its eyes and says, softly:
Ach ich bin so müde, ach ich bin so müde;
Möchte gern zu Bett gehen,
Morgen wieder früh aufstehen.
From the lips of a beauty of Castile it may be said to say:
Ah, mi vida, mi amor;
Mi pan de manteca, mi chucheron.
To complete its education and round out the interest to be excited in the visitors to the make-believe mamma, the doll should be able to say: "Och, Norah, agra, it's glad I am to see ye," and that will be as easy for the doll to say as are the softer words of the nursery songs. Indeed it will be by no means necessary for the doll to go abroad to get all these accomplishments, for the shop that turns out the doll turns out the tongues that speak all languages.

The peculiarity of these dolls is that they are modifications of Edison's phonograph. As already intimated in the French rhyme, the interior of the doll contains mechanism for operating a phonograph. The cylinder of wax is made harder than when used in the phonograph, so that it will stand rough usage, and it is, of course, by no means as large. These cylinders are stamped with all sorts of Mother Goose melodies and nursery rhymes, and as the dolls are to be sold everywhere, the cylinders have to be impressed with all sorts of languages. Having become tired of nursery talk in English, the dower of the doll has only to open its back, take out the cylinder and substitute one in any sort of language desired. The dolls will cost, perhaps, three dollars more for having the ability to talk within limits just as real folks do.—N. Y. Sun.

A BIG SNAKE STORY.

How the Crib of St. Lucia Swallows Serpents Larger Than Itself.
No part of the West Indies is so rich in snake stories as St. Lucia. Froude tells how this fer de lance hunts his human prey by creeping along a garden path until the guileless tourist falls foul of him, when in the flash of the eye the fierce beast has stabbed him with fangs that never do less than kill. Coleridge, a nephew of the poet, who visited the island in 1825, gives the gentle reader a shudder by saying that not even on horseback is the inquisitive traveler safe from a savage monster known as the wood slave, whose bite is as deadly as that of Froude's hot snake and whose instincts are no less desperate. Neither of these gentlemen had seen any snake in St. Lucia; no more have I. But it will never do to leave the island without something on this subject more authoritative than the yarn of an engineer sergeant.

I therefore take pleasure in assuring prospective travelers to this place that in 1844 St. Lucia was pronounced to be "infested by countless reptiles," and this from the pen of one who had resided thirteen years in the place. Mr. Beechey's snake story differs materially from those of both Froude and Coleridge in that he appears to know neither fer de lance nor wood slave, but tells of a ubiquitous "yellow serpent," whose bite, however, may be effectually cured if promptly attended to, and from what I learned in Castries I am disposed to back the statement of the thirteen-year resident as against those of the two gentlemen first quoted, though the one be a historian and the other the son of a Bishop. This yellow serpent, however, has an enemy called the cribo, who is both aggressive and powerful, and attacks his yellowship at sight and without provocation. Mr. Beechey says that the yellow serpent in these combats usually comes off second best, and that the cribo is so clever that when he is through with the fight he rolls about on the leaves of a plant called pied poule, which operation not only counteracts any evil effects from the other's bite, but acts as a tonic for more fight of the same kind, so that ultimately the cribo is sure to gain the victory, which he signals by swallowing his victim whole, commencing with the head.

Sometimes the cribo is called upon to swallow an adversary longer and bigger than himself, an operation that might discourage one less fruitful in resources. The work is accomplished in this wise: The cribo swallows as much as the cubic contents of his skin permits, whereupon he goes to sleep until time nervos him for a second effort. He then sucks in what is needful to keep himself distended, and thereupon once more seeks rest and sleep—repeating these operations until the apparently-impossible task is accomplished—namely: swallowing more than himself.—Leeds (Eng.) Mercury.

A Decidedly Mixed Pedigree.

Here is an amusing story, showing the aptness with which a lunatic will turn an argument. An inspector visiting the asylum at X—was requested by the medical superintendent to be very careful to address a certain patient as "Your Imperial Majesty," the poor man imagining himself to be Julius Caesar, and becoming furious if he did not receive what he considered proper respect. The inspector was careful to follow instructions, and all went well. On a subsequent visit he again addressed the patient by the same title. "What do you mean?" was the reply; "don't talk nonsense. I'm Plato." "Oh," said the inspector, "I beg your pardon, but I thought you were Julius Caesar last year." "Well, yes," replied the lunatic, "so I was, but that was by another mother."

The Force of Example.

People appear to think that, while good manners should be strenuously exacted from children, precept in this connection may stand instead of example, and that orders may be given them and remarks made upon them as if they were devoid of natural feelings and perceptions. As a matter of fact, if when people want children to do something for them, they would ask it in the same way in which they would address an equal, if they would thank them for little services rendered, speak to them gently, answer their reasonable questions civilly, and avoid unnecessary comments upon their appearance, they would have far less trouble in teaching them to behave with like consideration for others.

Why, Despite Constant Financial Worry, They Live Longer Than Other Men.
Life insurance men will all tell you that ministers of religion as a class live longer than any other. It is confirmed by the statistics of all those who calculate upon human longevity. Why is it? There is more draft upon the nervous system than in any other profession, and their toil is more exhausting. I have seen ministers kept on miserable stipends by parsimonious congregations who wondered at the dullness of the sermons, when the men of God were perplexed almost to death by questions of livelihood, and had not enough nutritious food to keep any fire in their temperament. No fuel, no fire. I have sometimes seen the inside of the life of many of the American clergymen—never accepting their hospitality, because they can not afford it; but I have seen them struggle on with salaries of five or six hundred dollars a year—the average less than that—their struggle well depicted by the Western missionary who says in a letter: "Thank you for your last remittance; until it came we had not any meat in our house for one year; and all last winter, although it was a severe winter, our children wore their summer clothing." And these men of God find in different parts of the land struggling against annoyances and exasperations innumerable, some of them week after week entertaining agents who have maps to sell, and submitting themselves to all styles of annoyance, and yet without complaint and cheerfulness of soul. How do you account for the fact that these life-insurance men tell us that ministers as a class live longer than any others? It is because of the joy of their work, the joy of the harvest field, the joy of greeting prodigals home to their Father's house.—T. D. Talmage, in N. Y. Observer.

—Chang Fan Moar, the interpreter attached to the Chinese legation at Washington, is described as a gigantic blonde Chinaman, with a profile as regular as a Greek statue. He comes from the north of China, where, owing to the severity of the sumptuary laws, the race is kept intact as to its unusual size and peculiar attributes.

The G. A. R. post at Lawrenceburg, Ind., has been presented a powder-horn that was once the property of the great Indian chieftain Tecumseh. It was the gift of Henry Morris, of Lawrenceburg. He is the son of William Morris, better known to Ohio valley pioneers as "Indian Bill," who figured in many savage and bloody encounters. After the great fight seventy-six years ago "Indian Bill" found the body of the slain warrior. The powder-horn, still attached to the string around Tecumseh's neck, lay on his breast. The scout removed it and preserved it as the most sacred of his relics. At his death a few years ago he presented it to his son Henry, who has now given it to Huff Post, and it hangs on the wall in that organization's hall.
